Declass Review by NGA.

STAT

Dear

I'm sorry to have delayed so long in getting the enclosed into your hands.

We have been deliberately broad in our approach since we feel that in an area such as this we must first get a thorough overview of the amount and nature of material to be scanned--the number of interviews that might prove really profitable and of course the specific and conjectural problems you and your co-workers face today.

We trust that with a few weeks' active investigation behind us we will be able to draw valid task limits and establish a target scope that can be defined and discussed at your forthcoming visit.

Following are the T&M rates for those who would be directly involved in this program:
